SCRIPTURE COMMENTARY by Dianne Bergant CSA

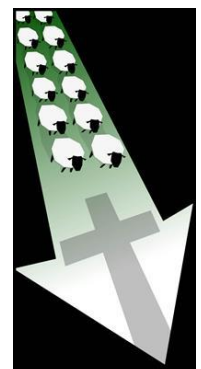

The first reading for today is an oracle of salvation calling for rejoicing over the future restoration of Jerusalem. The metaphor of motherhood characterises the relationship between the city and its inhabitants, as well as the loving care that this relationship will provide. What better way to describe the self-giving nature of God than as a nursing mother who protects and soothes and plays with her child? This touching maternal scene is interrupted for a moment as God promises anew to lavish abundant blessing on Jerusalem. Flowing water was considered living water and came to be a symbol for life itself.

Today's responsorial psalm begins with a threefold summons to praise God followed by reason for giving such praise, and it ends with individual expressions of thanksgiving. Each part of the summons adds a slightly different dimension to the praise that is sought. It is universal in scope; it is directed to God's name; it is not to be dismissed casually. The works of the God to which the psalmist refers are the wonders that God has accomplished in the history of Israel. The communal dimension of the first section of the responsorial psalm gives way to an individual focus. Others are invited to join the psalmist in grateful praise of God.

The reading from Paul begins and ends with reference to suffering, first to the death of Jesus and then to the evidence on Paul's own body of the sufferings that he endured as a result of his commitment to Christ. Having been joined to the death and resurrection of Jesus, Paul strikes a death blow to the world and its system of values; that world is now dead to him. He then insists that the age of fulfilment has come and brought with it a new creation. Faith in the power of the cross of Jesus, not circumcision, is now the sign of membership in the people of God. Thus women and men from every race and ethnic origin are now welcome in this community.

The mission of the seventy-two disciples is symbolic of the ultimate mission to all the nations of the world. Jesus uses two metaphors to represent the mission of the disciples: harvest, and lambs among wolves. Harvest connotes the readiness of the world for the ministry of the missionaries. The second metaphor adds a sobering tone to the picture. Although the harvest is ready, harvesting itself is a very dangerous occupation. The disciples are told to go into the world with only the bare essentials. They are to trust in God and depend upon the to whom they go.

On the lips of a Christian, the greeting of peace announced the presence of the age of eschatological fulfilment. As important as were the wondrous deeds performed by the disciples, more wondrous still was the fact that their names were inscribed in the heavenly book.

ABOUT OUR COLLECTIONS: It's a very Catholic thing, to be sure, to have two collections during our Mass service. It's not a practice which occurs in any other faith.

In the early years of the Church, the faithful brought wine and bread with them to be used during the service. Any left over was distributed to the poor and needy.

Later, people began bringing gifts of money or food which were offered for the work of the Church. In this way the faithful participated in a concrete way in Christ's self-offering in the sacrifice of the cross.

And so through the years to our custom of two collections. The first collection is for money which is used to house and feed our priests and maintain their residence; the second collection is the 'Planned Giving' collection which goes towards the upkeep of the Church and buildings, the Parish Office, rates, utility services, insurances, wages and the normal day to day running costs of any office.

We thank our parishioners for their generosity now, and in the past and remain hopeful of continued and growing support in the future.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION:

"He said to them, 'The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few...'"
 (Luke 10:2)

As Catholics we are all called to serve. However, many of us are unsure of what our charisms or gifts from the Holy Spirit are to help build God's Church. Through prayer we are able to discern how God is calling us. The next time your pastor or fellow parishioner asks you to join a committee, ask God first, if that is what He wants you to do with your gifts.

PARISH FINANCE MATTERS:

Entrance Antiphon :cf. Ps 47:10-11

*Your merciful love, O God,
We have received in the midst of your temple.
Your praise, O God, like your name,
reaches the ends of the earth;
your right hand is filled with saving justice.*

First Reading Isaiah 66:10-14

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

I will send toward Jerusalem peace like a river.

Rejoice, Jerusalem, be glad for her, all you who love her! Rejoice, rejoice for her, all you who mourned her! That you may be suckled, filled, from her consoling breast, that you may savour with delight her glorious breasts.

For thus says the Lord: Now towards her I send flowing peace, like a river, and like a stream in spite the glory of the nations.

At her breast will her nurslings be carried and fondled in her lap. Like a son comforted by his mother will I comfort you.

And by Jerusalem you will be comforted.

At the sight your heart will rejoice, and your bones flourish like the grass.

To his servants the Lord will reveal his hand.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 65:1-7 16 Rv1

(R.) Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.

1. Cry out with joy to God all the earth,
O sing to the glory of his name.
O render him glorious praise.
Say to God: 'How tremendous your deeds! (R.)
2. 'Before you all the earth shall bow;
shall sing to you, sing to your name!
Come and see the works of God,
tremendous his deeds among men. (R.)
3. He turned the sea into dry land,
they passed through the river dry-shod.
Let our joy then be in him;
he rules for ever by his might. (R.)
4. Come and hear, all who fear God.
I will tell what he did for my soul.
Blessed be God who did not reject my prayer
nor withhold his love from me. (R.)

Second Reading

Gal 6:14-18

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Galatians

The marks I carry on my body are those of Jesus Christ.

The only thing I can boast about is the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world. It does not matter if a person is circumcised or not; what matters is for him to become an altogether new creature. Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, who form the Israel of God.

I want no more trouble from anybody after this; the marks on my body are those of Jesus. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, my brothers. Amen.

Gospel Acclamation

Col 3:15 16

Alleluia, alleluia!

*May the peace of Christ rule in your hearts,
and the fullness of his message live within you.
Alleluia!*

Gospel

Lk 10:1-12. 17-20

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

Your peace will rest upon him.

The Lord appointed seventy-two others and sent them out ahead of him, in pairs, to all the towns and places he himself was to visit. He said to them, 'The harvest is rich but the labourers are few, so ask the Lord of the harvest to send labourers to his harvest. Start off now, but remember, I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. Carry no purse, no haversack, no sandals. Salute no one on the road. Whatever house you go into, let your first words be, "Peace to this house!" And if a man of peace lives there, your peace will go and rest on him; if not, it will come back to you. Stay in the same house, taking what food and drink they have to offer, for the labourer deserves his wages; do not move from house to house. Whenever you go into a town where they make you welcome, eat what is set before you. Cure those in it who are sick, and say, "The kingdom of God is very near to you." But whenever you enter a town and they do not make you welcome, go out into its streets and say, "We wipe off the very dust of your town that clings to our feet, and leave it with you. Yet be sure of this: the kingdom of God is very near." I tell you, that on that day it will not go as hard with Sodom as with that town.'

The seventy-two came back rejoicing. 'Lord,' they said, 'even the devils submit to us when we use your name.' He said to them, 'I watched Satan fall like lightning from heaven. Yes, I have given you power to tread underfoot serpents and scorpions and the whole strength of the enemy; nothing shall ever hurt you. Yet do not rejoice that the spirits submit to you; rejoice rather that your names are written in heaven.'
