NEW TESTAMENT COMMENTARY by Mary Coloe PBVM

Do you have what it takes to follow Jesus?

Philemon 9-10, 12-17; Luke 14:25-33

The letter to Philemon is one of the most personal of Paul's letters – just one chapter, perhaps a single page written quickly when a messenger was on his way from Paul's prison, towards the end of his life. It is addressed to Philemon and others who are part of a small house-church, possibly in Colossae (vv. 1-2). Paul has befriended a slave whom he calls Onesimus – which may not be a real name since it means 'useful' in Greek, so may just be a general title. Paul draws upon his friendship with Philemon and also his status as a prisoner to intercede for Onesimus who appears to be a runaway slave of Philemon. Paul has brought Onesimus into Christianity and so speaks of him as his child. Although Paul would like to keep him to assist him during his time in prison, he cannot do this without the approval of Philemon. Paul urges Philemon to receive Onesimus back, not as a slave, nor as one deserving punishment, but as 'a beloved brother'. Because of Christ, Paul understands that the old world, its values and polarities no longer operate; as he wrote to the Galatians, 'There is no longer Jew or Greek, there is no longer slave or free, there is no longer male and female; for all of you are one in Christ Jesus' (Galatians 3:28) – now all are one in Christ.

Paul's letter, and his letter to the Galatians, expresses the ideal of Christian relationships. It would be helpful to know how Paul's letter and Onesimus were received. Is it possible for master and slave to truly become 'one in Christ'? Could Philemon defy the social and cultural conventions of his neighbours and welcome Onesimus back as a 'brother'. What could be the consequences for Philemon if he did that – remember that slavery was an important part of the social infrastructure of the Roman Empire – nothing would make the Christian community stand out more than if they liberated their slaves. This week marks the anniversary of Martin Luther King's 'I have a dream' speech in Washington. King, like others who sought human rights for Afro-Americans, paid with his life. This might be a parallel context to consider Philemon's choice.

Jesus' teaching and miracles have been attracting crowds of would-be followers. Today's Gospel challenges these followers to realise that discipleship has a cost. It's all very well to go with the crowd when the miracle-worker is in town and gaining popularity, but have these followers considered the consequences? Jesus speaks of the utter commitment needed to be a disciple. In Semitic fashion, he sets out the options in a clear 'black or white' extreme position. To 'love' Jesus means 'hating' all else.

In a world which spends millions on advertising and promoting products and causes, Jesus' words sound very strange. Far from advertising discipleship, his words sound discouraging. 'Take up your Cross' is hardly a caption that would sell Christianity. But this is just the point. Jesus isn't after half-hearted followers. He wants 'all or nothing' Christians, people who know what they are taking on and give a whole-hearted commitment.

OUR PRAYER EXPERIENCE:

IGNATIAN PRAYER EVENING: Our thanks to Theresa Denny who lead us in an imaginative, prayerful consideration of God's Word. What an exciting, deep way to use all our senses to respond to God's Word.

We learned a little of the life of St Ignatius, and of the benefits to all of his teachings and beliefs. Ignatian spirituality is a spirituality for everyday life - that 'we can find God in all things.' It insists that God is present in our world and active in our busy lives.

OUR ROSTERS: if you have a look at our Rosters (pg 3), you'll notice that the person most frequently mentioned is 'Volunteer'. Thanks to all those who are already on the rosters, your response to your baptismal calling certainly is appreciated, and helps make our Masses meaningful celebrations. Without your support our Masses would be very stark indeed.

We are currently seeking volunteers to help make our Masses well run, vibrant celebrations, and are in need of :-

- Commentators Eucharistic Ministers,
- Welcomers Sacristans
- Musicians Money Collectors.
- Church cleaning

Please help enrich your Parish life by becoming a volunteer, training is available. These ministries are a very rewarding way of living our faith, and enhancing our Parish life. Please contact the Parish Office on 5174 2060 if you would like to help out or require any further information.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION:

*"Everyone of you who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple."
(Luke 14:33)*

When we first hear this statement, it seems that Jesus is making an unrealistic demand upon us. How can we renounce all of our possessions? We need them to live. However, what we must renounce is the belief that they belong to us. Everything that we have belongs to God alone. All of our resources are entrusted to us not only for our own use, but also so that we can help others. Once we renounce the idea that we possess or are entitled to anything, it is much easier to share the many gifts that God has given us. Then we truly are His Disciples.

OPERATION CHRISTMAS CHILD SHOEBOXES 2019 . . . SMY@L Youth Group would like to invite you to help us help children living in poverty, with a small gesture, a special gift. Operation Christmas Child is an initiative of the Christian organisation 'Samaritan's Purse'. They help children and families from all over the world, in the poorest of countries. We help by making up shoeboxes filled with goods, which are then delivered to children in third world countries for Christmas. There are 3 ways to help us out - Donate items for the boxes, donate money and /or help to pack the boxes.

Last year we filled 80 boxes & this is the 9th year we are taking part. Our boxes are sent to places such as Fiji or Indonesia. If you are interested, please pick up a flyer from the Church foyer with more details about how you can help.

Thank you in advance for your support and generosity.

How is God calling us to be a Christ-centred Church?

After the Diocesan Assembly, our Diocese will enter the next phase of our Journey to the 2020 Plenary Council. The Listening and Discernment stage commences with training and formation of all Animators, clergy, parish, school and agency Plenary teams and for any interested persons.

All Animators are expected to attend training. It is highly desirable that Parish Plenary Teams, Pastoral Councils and School Leadership Teams participate.

Entrance Antiphon Ps 118:137,124

*You are just, O Lord, and your judgement is right;
treat your servant in accord with your merciful love.*

First Reading Wis 9:13-18

A reading from the book of Wisdom
Who can comprehend the will of God?

What man can know the intentions of God? Who can divine the will of the Lord?

The reasonings of mortals are unsure and our intentions unstable; for a perishable body presses down the soul, and this tent of clay weighs down the teeming mind. It is hard enough for us to work out what is on earth, laborious to know what lies within our reach; who, then, can discover what is in the heavens?

As for your intention, who could have learnt it, had you not granted Wisdom and sent your holy spirit from above?

Thus have the paths of those on earth been straightened and men been taught what pleases you, and saved, by Wisdom.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 89:3-6 12-14 Rv1

(R.) In every age, O Lord, you have been our refuge.

1. You turn men back into dust and say: 'Go back, sons of men.'
To your eyes a thousand years
are like yesterday, come and gone,
no more than a watch in the night. (R.)
2. You sweep men away like a dream,
like grass which springs up in the morning.
In the morning it springs up and flowers:
by evening it withers and fades. (R.)
3. Make us know the shortness of our life that we may gain wisdom of heart.
Lord, relent! Is your anger for ever?
Show pity to your servants. (R.)
4. In the morning, fill us with your love;
we shall exult and rejoice all our days.
Let the favour of the Lord be upon us:
give success to the work of our hands. (R.)

Second Reading Phlm 9-10, 12-17

A reading from the letter of St Paul to Philemon

Receive him, not as a slave anymore, but as a very dear brother.

This is Paul writing, an old man now and, what is more, still a prisoner of Christ Jesus. I am appealing to you for a child of mine, whose father I became while wearing these chains: I mean Onesimus. I am sending him back to you, and with him – I could say – a part of my own self. I should have liked to keep him with me; he could have been a substitute for you, to help me while I am in the chains that the Good News has brought me. However, I did not want to do anything without your consent; it would have been forcing your act of kindness, which should be spontaneous. I know you have been deprived of Onesimus for a time, but it was only so that you could have him back for ever, not as a slave any more, but something much better than a slave, a dear brother; especially dear to me, but how much more to you, as a blood-brother as well as a brother in the Lord. So if all that we have in common means anything to you, welcome him as you would me.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

*Let your face shine on your servant,
and teach me your laws.*

Alleluia!

Gospel Lk 14:25-33

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

All who do not renounce their possessions cannot be my disciples.

Great crowds accompanied Jesus on his way and he turned and spoke to them. 'If any man comes to me without hating his father, mother, wife, children, brothers, sisters, yes and his own life too, he cannot be my disciple. Anyone who does not carry his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple.

'And indeed, which of you here, intending to build a tower, would not first sit down and work out the cost to see if he had enough to complete it? Otherwise, if he laid the foundation and then found himself unable to finish the work, the onlookers would all start making fun of him and saying, "Here is a man who started to build and was unable to finish." Or again, what king marching to war against another king would not first sit down and consider whether with ten thousand men he could stand up to the other who advanced against him with twenty thousand? If not, then while the other king was still a long way off, he would send envoys to sue for peace. So in the same way, none of you can be my disciple unless he gives up all his possessions.'
